All courses are offered by Silicon Beach Training Ltd, an Affiliate of The Knowledge Academy Ltd., an Accredited Training Organisation of The APM Group Ltd.

This 1-day Agile Project Management Practitioner (AgilePM) Conversion Course is a world renowned and internationally accredited course that enables candidates that already possess the Agile Project Management Foundation Certification, to develop their practical knowledge of how to implement project management techniques in business environments. Led by accredited and experienced tutors, the APMP Conversion Course allows aspiring project managers to develop their understanding of the fundamental principles behind Agile Project decisions, learn how to encourage team cohesion and collaboration, and empower individuals within projects through taking ownership of their work. In addition, delegates will learn how to demonstrate control and encourage productivity within their respective projects - which can be applied to a myriad of challenging real-life work scenarios.

Bridging deficiencies between possessing the knowledge acquired during the Agile Project Management Foundation training course and actually implementing such Agile Training knowledge into real-life business scenarios, the Agile Project Management Practitioner Conversion Course encourages practical implementation of strategies with underpinning rigour, visibility, and evidence-based proven methods.

The Agile Conversion course helps delegates develop a more rounded awareness of how to implement their pre-existing Agile Foundation knowledge, in order to become more astute project managers with the skills to lead successful projects on a daily basis. Awareness of such Agile implementation methods, allows projects to be delivered within a set budget, of business value, and to set deadlines, hence the course is beneficial for authoritative individuals and also for businesses looking for courses to enhance project productivity.
